CHOOSING A MEMORIAL

The memorials in our brochure offer a small insight into an extensive range of designs, types of stone, shapes and finishes, most of which are fully interchangeable.

Our experienced stonemasons can create bespoke memorials to suit your requirements perfectly in your preferred shape, colour and design.

We will work alongside you to guide and help you create the ideal memorial.

Shape

There are many memorial shapes to choose from. The brochure displays many to inspire you but please pop into the showroom and we can show you more.

Stone Types

We have many different types of stone in a variety of colours.

Granite and slate are very hard and durable stones, easy to maintain and not affected by weathering.

The softer stones such as marble, nabresina, yorkstone, sandstone, limestone etc lend themselves well to more intricate carvings and details, however they are susceptible to weathering and over time will require more care and renovating.

All our memorials are crafted from natural materials, as such variations in colour and structure are part of nature and are a characteristic of each individual stone.

Cemetery and Churchyard Regulations

We will help you understand the regulations that apply to you, in terms of material, finishes, memorial types, sizes and inscription laid down by the cemetery or churchyard.

CHOOSING AN INSCRIPTION

Inscriptions can be simple, classic, detailed or personalised. Here are some suggestions to help you formulate your special tribute.

INSCRIPTION IDEAS

Introduction

Lovingly remembered
In loving memory of Always remembering
In remembrance of Sacred memories of
In affectionate memory of

Selection of other text

Who departed this life
Who passed away
Who entered into rest

Selection of quotes

On earth one gentle soul less in heaven one angel more

Jesus called a little child

Until we meet again

To live in the hearts of those we love is not to die

A dad to us, a friend to all,
his smiling face we will recall

Sweet rest at last

Only goodnight beloved not farewell

To wake again in heaven

Memory is a golden chain that binds us till we meet again

Forever in our hearts
always in our thoughts

Rest in peace
